Fixed Deposit Calculation Result:

The screenshot displays a web application titled "Finance Management System" with a green header. The navigation menu includes HOME, LOANS, INVESTMENTS, ABOUT, CONTACT US, and LOGOUT. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column, titled "FD Maturity Details", shows a Maturity Value of ₹ 53973.12, a Rate of Interest of 8%, and an Aggregate Interest of ₹ 28873.12, with an "APPLY NOW" button. The right column, titled "What is Fixed Deposit?", explains that a Fixed Deposit is a type of Term Deposit popular in India due to its high interest rate and low risk, and lists three benefits: it is comparatively safe, offers stable and predicted returns (e.g., 8% per annum), and is suitable for conservative investors like senior citizens. Below this, a section titled "How is the interest on a bank FD calculated?" explains that interest for tenures under 6 months is simple, while for 6 months and above, it is compounded quarterly. A green "Up" arrow button is visible on the right side of the page.

What is Fixed Deposit?

Fixed Deposit, a type of Term Deposit is popular quite a popular investment choice in India due to high interest rate (as compared to regular savings account) and low risk. The interest rate is fixed for the whole maturity period and, it's usually considered as an extremely safe investment. The interest rates differ from bank to bank and the interest earned can be calculated Cumulative, Quarterly, Monthly and Standard.

Benefits of FD

- ✓ Comparatively safe investment
- ✓ Stable and predicted returns (example 8% per annum)
- ✓ Well suitable for conservative investors like senior citizens

How is the interest on a bank FD calculated?

The interest earned on a bank FD with a tenure of less than 6 months, is calculated at simple interest and is considered on the number of days. Whereas the interest earned on FDs having a tenure of 6 months and above, is compounded quarterly i.e. is interest earned during the previous quarter is added to the principal for calculation of interest.
